THE BEAUTITUDES FOR A FEDERATED REPUBLICAN WOMEN

Blessed is she who stands firmly for good government, for she shall be needed.

Blessed is she who works steadily for her nation,
for she shall be happy.

Blessed is she who believes in the cause she serves,
for she shall be respected.

Blessed is she who gives credit to her helpers,
for she shall be successful.

Blessed is she who has faith in her fellow man,
for she shall be justified.

Blessed is she who, when others criticize her, and say all manner of evil about her,

has the strength of character to forgive, the strength of purpose to carry on,

and the strength of body to continue

For she shall be called a leader in the Federation of Republican Women

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Wow! What a couple of months. We had our first meeting at the Valencia Country Club in February. We had 36 members attend, a vendor, a wonderful lunch, our room was fantastic, and the service was phenomenal. Dave Perry gave us so much information regarding our transportation issues in Los Angeles County.

In March, we were privileged to hear Dr. John Stead who gave us an overview of the first 60 days of President Trump. He was very positive with what he has accomplished and would like to come back and tell us of his accomplishments in about six months. We had 41 attendees. Hazel was our vendor and provided us with a variety of hats, purses and clothes we don't normally get to see. I believe the majority of you enjoyed the meeting and we look forward to providing more educational, entertaining information and having open discussions on the various current issues.

I was able to attend the March meeting after my hip replacement surgery. I wish to thank each of you for your prayers and words of encouragement because that is what got me through this time. I feel at the top of my game but I know I still have some healing and rehabilitation to do, so I must take it easy and not push (more than I normally do). I feel like the Energizer Bunny and want to keep on going. I look forward to being completely recovered and back to my old self without pain.

Last month was Baron Trump's birthday and this month, April 26, is Melania Trump's birthday. We are very fortunate to have such a wonderful family representing us in the White House including all of President Trump's older children. Birthday wishes to both Melania and her son.

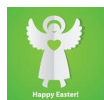

I have spoken with several of you and you told me you enjoyed the biographies on our members so I will be putting that back in our newsletter. I am asking each of you to help me by answering my questions so we can share your information with our members. Don't be bashful. I look forward to interviewing each of you.

We will be starting the discussion on our Constitution so please read the inserts I will be putting in the newsletter. I will have some copies of the Constitution available for your full review. Please let me know if you would like to have a copy.

At our April meeting, Pepper will be discussing the importance of your volunteer hours. She will share how to fill our forms and how to continue to provide the information. We earn money awards and recognition from CFRW, LA County RWF and Southern Division for our volunteer hours, our membership and recruiting and for our newsletter. At the Winter CFRW, we earned three awards and $50 for our membership increase and percentage of renewals. Thank you to each of you for building our club.

My sincere wishes to each of you for a very "Happy Easter."

FEBRUARY MEETING

Dave Perry gave us a lot of data about our transportation issues in and around Santa Clarita and the corridors in and out of our city. Dave also updated us on some of the happenings within the County Board of Supervisors. He was a wealth of information.

MARCH MEETING

Dr. John Stead is one of our favorite speakers. He has served on The Master's University (formerly College) faculty since 1970 and is currently Academic Vice President. Has also served as Vice President of Academic Affairs from 1979 to 1995. His doctoral work focused on Political Theory, Comparative Politics, and American Politics. He received his PhD from USC.

Dr. Stead focused on the first 60 days of President Trump. He felt that President Trump has done an exceptional job in his selection of cabinet appointments. Dr. Stead complimented his tenacity as a leader and felt that Trump would accomplish a lot of positive actions. Dr. Stead captivated our members and guests with his insight and positive feedback on Donald Trump, our 45th President.

Trump and California headed for clash over sanctuary policies: Susan Shelley

By Susan Shelley, LA Daily News Posted: 03/17/17, 5:38 PM PDT

California is headed for a civil war with the Trump administration over the issue of sanctuary policies. In Washington, President Trump issued an executive order that vows to withhold federal funds from “sanctuary jurisdictions,” and in Sacramento, Senate President Pro Tem Kevin de León, D-Los Angeles, introduced Senate Bill 54, that could put the entire state of California into that category. But what is the exact definition of a “sanctuary jurisdiction,” and can the president really withhold federal money in retaliation? Trump’s Jan. 25 executive order, “Enhancing Public Safety in the Interior of the United States,” defines sanctuary jurisdictions as those that “willfully refuse to comply with 8 U.S.C. 1373” and makes them “not eligible to receive federal grants, except as deemed necessary for law enforcement purposes.” The law in question, 8 U.S.C. 1373, relates to the sharing of information about immigration status. It says “a Federal, State, or local government entity or official may not prohibit, or in any way restrict, any government entity or official from sending to, or receiving from, the Immigration and Naturalization Service information regarding the citizenship or immigration status, lawful or unlawful, of any individual.” Trump’s order doesn’t appear to ban sanctuary policies like the Los Angeles Police Department’s “Special Order 40,” signed in 1979 by Police Chief Daryl Gates, which prohibits LAPD officers from initiating contact with an individual solely to determine immigration status. That policy is intended to protect crime victims and witnesses, who otherwise might be afraid to go to the police. It’s the policies that protect criminals that seem to be the president’s target. A close look at the executive order reveals hints of the battle plan. “To better inform the public,” the order states, the Secretary of Homeland Security will compile “a comprehensive list of criminal actions committed by aliens and any jurisdiction that ignored or otherwise failed to honor any detainers with respect to such aliens.” An updated list will be released every week. And every three months the government will release a report on the immigration status of all “aliens incarcerated” in federal prison, state prison and local detention centers. Further, the executive order directs the Office of Management and Budget to “obtain and provide” information about all current federal grants to sanctuary jurisdictions. And it establishes an “Office for Victims of Crimes Committed by Removable Aliens” to provide “proactive, timely, adequate and professional services” to victims and their families. The battlefield begins to come into focus. State and local elected officials responsible for sanctuary policies will be shelled with questions once voters start getting weekly reports of crimes committed by people who wouldn’t have been in their communities without those sanctuary policies. Adding to the impact: victims have a new federal office dedicated to helping them tell their stories. The consequences of this executive order may turn out to be more political than financial. A state Senate analysis of SB54 says court rulings in past cases make it “likely that only federal funds relating to law enforcement purposes could be withheld.” But Trump’s executive order specifically says law enforcement funds will not be withheld. The threatened cutoff of federal funds may ultimately add up to nothing.

Press Release Knight Selected for Congressional Committees

Knight was selected to serve on the House Committees on Small Business, House Committee on Science, Space and Technology, and House Armed Services Committee. The Congressman was a member of all three committees in the previous Congress, and he feels they align with the interests of the district he represents.

"I am excited to serve on these three committees once again, as they're a perfect fit for our region," said Rep. Knight. "We are in a unique position because we are home to a tremendous amount of small businesses that work in fields related to defense, science and aerospace. I look forward to continuing our work in these committees to expand opportunities in our community."

Representative Steve Knight, CA-25, reintroduced a bill on Thursday that would help veterans recover from post-traumatic stress (PTS), traumatic brain injury (TBI), military sexual trauma (MST), chronic pain, and opiate addiction.

The No Hero Left Untreated Act would establish a pilot program within the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) on a promising neurological treatment option for mental trauma called magnetic EEG/EKG-guided resonance therapy. This is an individualized non-pharmaceutical, non-invasive neuromodulation procedure that applies magnetic stimulation to restore proper brain function. To date, open label trials and placebo-controlled, double-blind studies indicate that over 400 veterans have reported a marked improvement in symptoms associated with PTS, TBI, MST, chronic pain, and opiate addiction.

Thursday's reintroduction is necessary for the bill to pass the 115th Congress and receive a Presidential signature. It has 50 original cosponsors and it is supported by a broad coalition of Veterans Service Organizations, to include American Legion, AMVETS, and the Association of the United States Navy. The measure currently awaits committee assignment.

"The No Hero Left Untreated Act would support and expand on promising technology to bring relief to our heroes, which is why it received widespread support last Congress," continued Knight. "I look forward to building on that momentum and working with my colleagues to ensure that we get our service men and women the treatment they deserve."

Acosta Authors Bill Aimed At Revenge Porn, AB 109

Posted by: Perry Smith in Santa Clarita Elections, Santa Clarita Latest News February 14, 2017

Assemblyman Dante Acosta, R-Santa Clarita, introduced his first bills in the Legislature this week, officials said.

The bills address public safety concerns Acosta has heard from constituents, he said. Some of the bills address voter-created concerns from the law-enforcement community as the changes to the probationary system brought about by AB 109, Proposition 47 and Proposition 57, Acosta said.

The legislative package, which includes three bills, AB 537, AB 538 and AB 539:

AB 537 would add to the list of serious crimes a host of offenses from child abuse to use of a hostage as a human shield in order to evade arrest, according to Acosta.

Due to the governor's realignment efforts — AB 109 in 2011 — many felons guilty of "non-serious" crimes serve reduced terms in county jails instead of in state penitentiaries. The bill would undo much of the damage done by realignment to the justice system, Acosta added.

AB 538 will require criminals who receive an aggregate sentence of over 3 years for felonies to serve that time in state prison instead of county jails. Often criminals who serve time in county jails are much more likely to secure early release. Requiring that time to be served in prison will ensure that victims receive the justice they deserve.

AB 539 gives law enforcement the right to seek a warrant in cases of so called "revenge porn" or other similar situations. This is when a person distributes across the internet malicious images or video of a sexual nature without the consent of the person on the image or video where privacy was expected by the victim. Currently this is illegal, but law enforcement has no right to seek a warrant even if enough evidence exists to expect one.
